

1 Amendment read to Judge Libey on 12-30-2022 at approximately 1609 hours and recorded on 2 body camera:

3 On 12-30-22 while service search warrant SW12292022A for Steptoe Apt G201 we found a 4 padlock, round in shape, in the living room closet. Based on my training and experience I 5 recognized the padlock to be the shape of locks typically used on storage units. The lock is 6 round in shape and the design limits the ability for it to be cut off. A key matching the lock was 7 also found in the living room in the tv stand next to keys which appear to be for the Wilson-Short 8 office.

9 I had Ofc. Kirshner contact the apartment coordinator who confirmed there are storage closets 10 available to residents located in the same buildings as the laundry areas. Sgt. Petlovany went to 11 the area and confirmed there was a storage closet with the address "G201" written in black 12 marker on the wood door. The storage closet is located in Building F of Steptoe Apartments.

13 The Storage door is not locked, and the door is slightly ajar. I believe the storage was likely used 14 by Kohberger to store items and was likely accessed between the time of the murders and his 15 travel to Pennsylvania. It is also believed the storage closet could contain trace evidence listed in 16 #1 and #5 of evidence to be seized.

17 Judge, do you believe there is probable cause to believe these items may be found in the storage 18 unit and do you authorize us to search the storage unit?
